Jul 19, 2017 I think the go in and out of water is random. I can have a quest go in the water, and I can "explore" through the water and open my menu/get items but the in-game camera goes all glitchy and it is really hard to maneuver, especially in the water. [According to be2r's request] The custom quests can be exported and imported through the quest editor, and in-game XML file can be exported and imported through the xml export. Mar 14, 2016 "Custom Quest Editor Tutorial" is only for the very old version, 1.1.2.x.

But as there is no more the old version, we no longer have the resources to update the tutorial. An Online Guide with Tutorials, Tips, and Tricks for Monster Hunter Generations. Jan 30, 2018 There are a lot of things in this quest editor that only work on majora's mask, or pre-4.0, like the collision detector, or the script manager I think.

The last time I used the editor was on 4.0 for absolutely no reason, but all the quests were my making. Jan 27, 2019 Not a custom quest designer for MHG. Mar 28, 2019 Custom Quest Editor for Monster Hunter Generations. Before publishing this, I would like to point out the following: - To use this program, you MUST have an MHG save file on the machine you are working on. - You MUST have an MHG save file on the machine you are working on (if you have installed a save manager in the past, then don't worry, all you need to do is reload the save manager). - You MUST have a save manager installed. - You must enable "Script debugging" and "Playlist debugging" in the Debug Tools menu (Easy) I don't know if it is a common, but for me, I keep getting a "Save Failed" message when I'm trying to export the "Custom Quest Editor Tutorial" with the Save Manager, even though I'm sure I have a save file. There are a lot of things in this quest editor that only work on majora's mask, or pre-4.0, like the collision detector, or the script manager I think. Students in the Czech Republic and Austria are among the best-performing in the world, the OECD education body reveals, alongside the Netherlands, Finland and Korea. Students in the Czech Republic, Austria and the Netherlands are among the best performing in the world, according to an annual survey ranking countries on education, the Organisation for Economic Co-operation and Development (OECD) said on Thursday. For the fifth year in a row, the Netherlands led the way in the rankings, followed by Finland. "The Netherlands was the highest-ranked country in the 2018 Programme for International Student Assessment (PISA) for 15 years in a row," the OECD said. "Finland was the highest-ranked emerging economies," it added. The US, Australia and Canada were also among the best-performing nations. PISA, an international test administered to 15-year-olds, seeks to measure student skills and proficiency in reading, mathematics and science, as well as non-cognitive skills, such as creativity and scientific curiosity. 2017 PISA data reflected results from students in 120 countries and economies. The score gives a country a ranking between 0 and 1, with 0 representing the worst possible score and 1 indicating the best. The Czech Republic, meanwhile, had the highest-achieving students in the world, with 80 percent of students scoring above the OECD average of 50 percent. Slovakia, Latvia, Slovakia and Estonia completed the top five. Austria came in at number eight, above Canada, the US 3da54e8ca3
