Acer Nplify 802.11 B G N I Installed Windows 2008 server on my Acer 4730Z laptop, - - Acer Computers & Internet question. RELATED ARTICLESHow to Fix Outdated or Broken Drivers How to Remove Driver Software List by Hardware Information, Driver, Version, Architecture and Installed in Windows Computer. A: According to the Acer website the model you have with the N label (with the 4030z) is an Acer Aspire 4730Z, and not an Acer Aspire nplify as others in this thread are saying. To download the correct driver, just use the search box on this page. You will then be able to download the correct driver for your Acer Aspire 4730Z for your operating system. You will need to unzip the file to access the driver within your computer. Example: For Windows 7 (32bit): From the start menu select Run (or search for the "run" option and choose it from the results, which will take you to the Windows search page) and then type in the following: %systemroot%\system32\DRIVERS\ from the search results click on the first link (it will be the most recent driver based on what I'm seeing in my search), and in the dropdown box on the next page that should pop up, go to the "Acer Aspire 4730Z" section. If you don't see a section with this name and it will say "not found" next to it, then you need to change the name from "Acer Aspire 4730Z" to "Aspire 4730Z" in the dropdown box to the right. In the middle dropdown box on the next page after you have selected the "Acer Aspire 4730Z" box, make sure it says "driver" (not "software"), and then search for the driver that you just need. You will then download the driver. For Windows XP (32bit): From the start menu select Run (or search for the "run" option and choose it from the results, which will take you to the Windows search page) and then type in the following: %systemroot%\system32\DRIVERS\ from the search results click on the first link (it will 1cb139a0ed
