A: The start of the file looks like this:
A: On Thursday, the American Civil Liberties Union filed a federal lawsuit on behalf of a 7-year-old autistic girl named Zephyr Teachout who is on a hunger strike to force the board of directors of the organization to recognize her as a party in a custody battle over her 14-year-old brother. Teachout has launched an election to run the organization as its leader, and the organization has received a lot of heat for not recognizing her. The lawsuit is called Teachout vs. CUNY and can be found here. Zephyr Teachout has put up these demands for the organization in an open letter. Dear members of the ACLU board: In my capacity as your executive director, I am writing to let you know that I am running for the leadership of the ACLU. I am calling for a vote for directors based on votes of members like you. This is the only way our organization can survive — as a representative democracy. It is the only way we can continue to protect the Constitution and our values. As our organization grows, we have become too small and too insular to provide consistent leadership and accountability. It is time for a change. But it isn't just time to change leaders — it's time to change how we operate. We have been collecting, processing and acting on tens of thousands of dollars of members' individual contributions. This funding has allowed us to mount a national campaign of lawsuits, to create online resources, to establish training programs for new lawyers and to train other professionals. It has also allowed us to hire and pay for an independent mental health professional to counsel those ACLU members who have been or are considering leaving the ACLU over questions of
