This sophisticated GUI client supports multiple character windows (multiplaying), aliases, triggers with complex pattern matching including regular expressions, macro keys, variables, speedwalking, spell checking, automatic map generation, equipment database, graphical buttons, extensive built-in and user-defined functions, ANSI color, Simutronics game support, VT100 support, MSP, MXP, MCP, MCCC support, GSL, Pueblo emulation, word wrapping, alarms, and online help. MUD stands for Multi-User Dungeon, Multi-User Domain, or Multi-User Dimension. Regardless of what it stands for, a MUD is an online environment where multiple users are logged on and interacting with one another. zMUD Product Key is fully customizable and 90 percent compatible with TinTin++ clients. Furthermore, it is compatible with proxy servers and firewalls including SOCKS5. Here are some key features of "zMUD Cracked Version":

- Spell Checking Misspelled words are underlined with a red wiggle. You can right-click to get a suggestion of correct words. You can add words to your own dictionary, and even auto-correct your common misspellings. Dictionaries for many different languages are available.
- Trigger Wizard Use the new wizard to create common triggers for your MUD. Advanced users can write their own custom wizards to help people create MUD-specific triggers
- Flexible Scripting Now you can write scripts in ANY scripting language supported by Windows. Using the Windows Scripting Engine, you can write scripts in VBScript, JavaScript, or any other language that you install that supports this Microsoft engine (such as PerlScript). zMUD Scripting is still the fastest and most optimized scripting language for MUD playing, but if you don't want to learn zMUD Scripting, you can use your favorite scripting language instead.
- Multi-state Triggers The most powerful trigger system just got better: multi-state triggers. Add multiple conditions to your triggers for handling multiple lines, or other complex situations. It's a full "state machine" that you can control to provide powerful processing of MUD output.
- Dockable Windows Windows can be dragged together to tile horizontally, vertically, or on top of each other using window tabs. Once you have the windows set up the way you want
